

Sentence Variety Review Quiz

- 1) A Clause has a _____ and a _____ .

- 2) An Independent Clause is a _____ .

- 3) A Dependent Clause is not a _____ .

- 4) Five examples of words which begin Dependent Clauses include _____, _____, _____, _____, and _____ .

- 5) A Phrase is different from a Clause because a Phrase does not have a _____ and a _____ . It will have a _____ or a _____ .

6) What do you call the elements which connect Independent Clauses together in a Compound Sentence?

7) What are the three Connectives?

- _____

- _____

- _____

8) What are the seven Coordinating Conjunctions?

-

-

-

-

-

-

-

Sentence Types: Use “I” to represent Independent Clauses and “D” to represent Dependent Clauses to create formulas for the following types of sentences. Record the “I” or “D” in the longer blanks. Use punctuation for the shorter blanks. Record Connectives in the boxes.

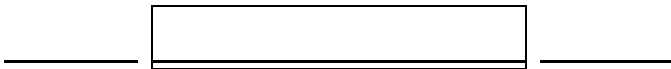

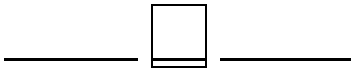

Simple

Introductory Phrase ___ _____

Direct Address ___ _____

_____ __ Direct Address

Compound

Complex

(The Ellipses Represents that the Dependent Clause is between the Subject and the Verb of the Independent Clause.)

_____ ... _____ ... _____

(The Ellipses Represents that the Dependent Clause is between the Subject and the Verb of the Independent Clause.)

Compound-Complex

_____ _____

_____ _____

_____ _____

Fragments

What are four types of sentences fragments?

-

-

-

-

Run-On Sentences

_____ (What do we call this specific type of Run-On sentence?)